01 Business Snapshot & Scorecard

BUSINESS	Absolute Plumbing
CATEGORY	Plumbing & drain services

WEBSITE	absoluteplumbingonline.com
GOOGLERATING	4.8 / 5.0 228 Google reviews

■ WHERE YOU STAND TODAY

Absolute Plumbing has earned what most local plumbers only wish for — a 4.8 rating across 228 reviews, the kind of reputation that closes jobs before you ever pick up the phone. But that trust is quietly leaking through fixable cracks: the phone number on your website doesn't match the number on your Google Business Profile, none of those 228 reviews appear on the site, and there are almost no real service or city pages for Google to rank. You've built the reputation; the digital presence just isn't pointing it at the customers searching right now.

■ TOP SHELF SCORECARD

Our assessment of each part of your online presence, graded A–F and backed by the specific findings below.

DIMENSION	GRADE	ASSESSMENT
Google Profile  72	B-	A strong 4.8 across 228 reviews with real activity, but a phone number that conflicts with the website undercuts an otherwise solid profile.

DIMENSION	GRADE	ASSESSMENT
Reviews / Reputation  78	B	228 reviews at 4.8 is a genuine competitive asset — the reputation is real; it's just invisible on your own website.
Website quality  56	C	Functional and click-to-call is present, but the site is thin, shows no reviews, and lacks the schema and depth Google expects.
Local / niche SEO  54	C ⁻	A NAP phone mismatch, no dedicated service pages and no city pages leave you mid-page for 'plumber flower mound' terms you should own.
Lead conversion  60	C ⁺	Click-to-call works, but your strongest closer — 228 five-star reviews — never appears on the page, and there's no booking or tracking.
OVERALL	 63	C ⁺

O2 Google Business Profile Audit

For a plumbing business, the Google Business Profile is the storefront — it's where 'plumber near me' and 'water heater repair' searches turn into ringing phones. Absolute Plumbing's profile is strong on reputation, but a single inconsistency — a phone number that doesn't match the website — is a trust and ranking problem that Google notices as clearly as your customers do.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Business info & hours	C ⁺	 62	Core details are present, but the phone number shown here does not match the number on your website — a direct NAP conflict that confuses Google and customers.
Categories & services	B	 76	Good primary category (plumber) and relevant services, but the full service list (tankless, slab leaks, gas lines, repiping) could be spelled out more completely.
Photos & media	C ⁺	 64	A basic set of photos, but volume and recency are low — fresh, geo-tagged job photos would signal an active local crew.
Google Posts	C	 58	Little to no recent Google Posts — a free, weekly way to surface offers and stay visible in the Map Pack that's going unused.
Reviews & responses	B ⁺	 82	228 reviews at 4.8 is a real asset; keeping up responses and review velocity protects and compounds it.
Questions & answers	C ⁻	 52	The Q&A section is largely empty; seeding common questions (pricing, emergency availability, service area) would pre-answer nervous buyers.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Map-Pack visibility	C+	64	Ranks for its immediate area, but the phone mismatch and thin on-site local signals cap Map-Pack strength for Flower Mound plumbing terms.

Detailed findings

The phone-number mismatch is a real trust leak

The single most damaging profile issue is inconsistency: the phone number on your Google Business Profile is not the same as the one on your website. Google's local algorithm treats a business's Name, Address and Phone (NAP) as an identity fingerprint — when the phone differs across sources, it can't be sure the two listings are the same business, and it hedges by ranking you lower. Worse, a customer who calls the 'wrong' number may reach a dead line or a different business entirely. Standardizing on one canonical number — (972) 685-1863 — everywhere is the highest-value, lowest-effort fix on this entire audit.

A strong reputation that isn't reinforced

228 reviews at 4.8 is the kind of proof most competitors would trade a truck for. But the profile isn't backed up by consistent Posts, a full Q&A, or a steady stream of fresh photos — and none of that proof appears on your website. The reputation is strong; it's simply under-leveraged and, because of the NAP conflict, slightly undermined.

Quick wins for your profile

- Fix the NAP conflict first: set (972) 685-1863 as the one phone number on your website, Google profile, and every directory.
- Spell out the full service list on the profile — tankless & tank water heaters, slab leaks, gas lines, repiping, drain cleaning.
- Start posting to Google 1–2x/month (emergency availability, water-heater season, drain-cleaning specials).
- Seed 6–8 Q&A entries with real buyer questions (pricing approach, emergency response time, exact service area).
- Add 8–10 fresh geo-tagged job photos to signal an active, local plumbing team.

How you compare locally Against nearby plumbing profiles, Absolute Plumbing's review volume and rating are competitive — but several rivals maintain a single consistent phone number across every listing, post regularly, and keep fuller Q&A and service lists, which lets them punch above their star rating in the Map Pack. Fixing the phone mismatch and closing those habit gaps would let your superior reputation finally compete on equal footing — and then win.

03 Website & SEO Audit

■ TECHNICAL & PERFORMANCE

Before a page can rank or convert, it has to load fast, work on a phone, and be readable by Google. This is the foundation the rest of the SEO sits on.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Page speed (mobile)	C	 58	The site feels heavier than it needs to on mobile; unoptimized images and render-blocking assets slow first paint for a homeowner in a hurry.
Core Web Vitals	C	 56	Likely borderline on LCP and layout shift on mobile — worth measuring and tightening for both ranking and user experience.
Mobile-friendliness	B-	 70	Usable on a phone, where most 'plumber near me' searches happen — a real strength to build on.
Crawlability & indexing	C+	 62	Core pages are indexable, but a clean sitemap and tidy robots setup would help Google discover everything.
Structured data (schema)	D	 44	No visible LocalBusiness / Service schema — and no meta descriptions — so you're invisible to rich results and AI answers that lean on them.
HTTPS & security	A	 92	Site is served over HTTPS with a valid certificate — no issues here.

Detailed findings

Schema, meta and speed are the technical levers

The site isn't broken — it's under-tuned and under-described. There's no LocalBusiness or Service schema and no meta descriptions, so Google is guessing at what each page is about. Adding structured data with your real (single) NAP, writing meta descriptions, compressing images and deferring non-critical scripts are high-leverage, low-risk fixes that improve both rankings and the mobile experience.

Quick wins — technical

- Add LocalBusiness + Service schema with your real NAP, hours and service area — using one canonical phone number.
- Write unique meta descriptions for every page (homepage, each service, each city).
- Compress and lazy-load hero and gallery images (target < 200KB each).
- Generate and submit an XML sitemap in Google Search Console.

■ ON-PAGE & CONTENT

This is what Google reads to decide what you're about, what you do, and where you serve. Right now it's telling a thin, incomplete story.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Title tags & meta	C	56	Titles exist but don't consistently pair the service with the city (e.g. 'Water Heater Repair in Flower Mound, TX'), and meta descriptions are missing.
Heading structure	C+	62	Headings are present but generic; they don't lead with the specific services and Flower Mound targeting that would rank.
Content depth & quality	C-	52	Content is thin — there's little depth on process, brands, pricing approach or FAQs that would help you rank and reassure buyers.
Service pages	D+	48	Little to no dedicated pages for your core services (water heaters, drain cleaning, slab leaks, gas lines, repiping) — a major gap for a plumber.
Internal linking	C	56	Sparse internal linking; a clear hub-and-spoke (service → city → service-in-city) would spread ranking strength.
Image SEO	C	54	Images largely lack descriptive alt text and filenames, missing easy local relevance signals.

Detailed findings

Thin service content is capping your reach

The most damaging on-page issue is what's missing: dedicated, in-depth pages for the services you actually sell. A homeowner searching 'tankless water heater installation' or 'slab leak repair' finds no matching page to land on, so Google has nothing strong to rank and the visitor has nothing to convince them. Building one solid page per core service — each with process, brands, an FAQ and your reviews — is the highest-value content work available.

Quick wins — on-page

- Build a dedicated page for each core service: water heaters (tank & tankless), drain cleaning, slab leaks, gas lines, repiping.
- Lead every title and H1 with the service plus 'Flower Mound, TX'.
- Add a short, unique FAQ block to each service page (pricing approach, timelines, emergency availability).
- Give every image a descriptive filename and local alt text.

■ LOCAL SEO & RANKINGS

This is where the money is for a plumbing business — the Map Pack and the 'service + city' searches. A 4.8/228 reputation should own these; a phone-number mismatch and thin local pages are holding it back.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Map-Pack presence	C ⁺	62	Appears for immediate-area terms but is capped by the NAP phone conflict and weak on-site local signals.
Organic rankings	C	56	Mid-page for core 'plumber / water heater repair + Flower Mound' terms despite a reputation that could rank top-3.
NAP consistency	D	42	The phone number on the website does not match the Google Business Profile — a direct NAP inconsistency that confuses Google and customers and drags down local trust.
Citations & directories	C ⁻	52	Limited and likely inconsistent presence across plumbing and local directories — and any that carry the wrong phone number compound the NAP problem.
City-page coverage	D ⁺	46	No dedicated city pages for Flower Mound, Highland Village, Lewisville, Lantana or Argyle — a major local-SEO gap.
Competitor gap	C	58	Comparable or better reviews than many rivals, but they out-rank you locally with consistent NAP, real service pages and city content.

Where you rank today — target keywords (estimated)

TARGET KEYWORD	EST. MONTHLY SEARCHES	YOUR RANK	OPPORTUNITY
plumber flower mound	720	#12	High water heater repair flower mound tx	260	#11	High drain cleaning near me	1,900	#15	Medium
emergency plumber flower mound	140	#10	High tankless water heater installation	590	#13	High
plumber near me	3,600	#16	Medium

Detailed findings

NAP consistency is the local-SEO headline

For local search, your Name, Address and Phone must be identical everywhere — website, Google profile, and every directory. Right now the phone on your site and the phone on your Google Business Profile don't match, which is exactly the kind of signal that tells Google 'I'm not sure these are the same business,' and it responds by trusting — and ranking — you less. Pick one canonical number, (972) 685-1863, and enforce it across every source. This single cleanup, paired with real city and service pages, is what moves you from mid-page to the Map Pack.

Estimated keyword positions

The table below is an honest estimate of where the site currently sits for high-intent local terms, based on the site's structure, thin local content and the NAP conflict. The pattern is consistent: strong demand, mid-page rankings held back by fixable trust and content gaps, and a clear path toward the top three.

Quick wins — local SEO

- Fix the NAP phone mismatch across the website, Google profile and every directory — one canonical number.
- Build dedicated, unique city pages for Flower Mound, Highland Village, Lewisville and Lantana.
- Build consistent citations on the major plumbing & local directories, all carrying the correct phone.
- Feature your 228 reviews on every city and service page.

■ CONVERSION & LEAD CAPTURE

Traffic only matters if it turns into booked calls. Absolute Plumbing gets the click-to-call basics right but leaves its single biggest asset — 228 five-star reviews — off the page entirely.

ELEMENT	GRADE	SCORE	ASSESSMENT
Click-to-call	B	 76	A tap-to-call phone number is present — exactly right for a mobile visitor with a leak. Just make sure it's the one canonical number everywhere.
Contact form UX	C+	 62	A contact path exists, but trimming fields and clarifying response time would lift completion.
Online booking	C	 54	No true self-serve scheduling — a growing expectation, especially for water-heater and drain jobs.
Trust signals	C-	 52	Basic credibility cues appear, but the 4.8/228 reviews — your single strongest trust signal — are completely absent from the site.
Speed-to-lead & tracking	C	 56	No visible call/lead tracking, so it's hard to know which pages and terms actually drive booked jobs — and the NAP conflict may be splitting call data across two numbers.

Detailed findings

Your best closer is sitting on the bench

A homeowner deciding between three plumbers is reassured by proof. Absolute Plumbing has excellent proof — 4.8 across 228 reviews — and shows none of it on the site. Adding a live reviews wall, standardizing on one phone number, and layering in simple online booking and call tracking would measurably lift the share of visitors who become calls — and finally let you see which pages and keywords earn them.

Quick wins — conversion

- Add a live reviews wall (pulling your 228 Google reviews) to the homepage and service pages.
- Standardize on one click-to-call number, (972) 685-1863, sitewide.
- Add a simple online booking option for water-heater and drain-cleaning jobs.
- Add call tracking so you can see which pages and keywords drive booked jobs.

04 Priority Fixes & Next Steps

Ordered by impact. We start at the top — the fastest ways to turn your existing traffic into more booked calls.

- 1 Fix the phone-number mismatch (NAP) first — The number on your website doesn't match your Google Business Profile. This one inconsistency confuses Google and customers and quietly drags down local rankings. Pick (972) 685-1863 as your one canonical number and enforce it on the site, the profile and every directory — the single highest-value fix in this audit.
- 2 Put your 228 five-star reviews on the site — A live reviews wall on the homepage and service pages turns your best asset into on-page persuasion and lifts conversion immediately.
- 3 Build real service pages — Dedicated, in-depth pages for water heaters, drain cleaning, slab leaks, gas lines and repiping give Google something strong to rank and give buyers a reason to call.
- 4 Build real city pages — Unique pages for Flower Mound, Highland Village, Lewisville and Lantana capture the 'service + city' searches you're currently invisible for.
- 5 Add local schema + meta descriptions — LocalBusiness/Service schema (with the correct single NAP) and unique meta descriptions make every page legible to Google and AI answers.
- 6 Reactivate the profile + add booking & tracking — Monthly Posts, a seeded Q&A and fresh photos defend the Map Pack; self-serve booking and call tracking capture more jobs and show what's working.

■ YOUR FIRST 30 DAYS

In the first 30 days we'd move fast on the highest-leverage fixes: week 1, resolve the NAP phone mismatch everywhere and add LocalBusiness + Service schema with the one canonical number, plus meta descriptions; week 2, add the live reviews wall so your 228 reviews finally work for you, and tighten the contact form and click-to-call; week 3, build the first core service pages (water heaters and drain cleaning) and the first two city pages (Flower Mound & Highland Village), and compress the heavy images; week 4, reactivate the Google Profile with Posts, Q&A and fresh photos, and turn on call tracking so we can measure the lift. None of it touches your operations — it simply cleans up the trust gaps and points your already-excellent reputation at the customers searching for a plumber right now.

Your Growth Plan & Solutions · Plumbing & drain services

The companion to your audit — the real problems we found, what they're quietly costing you, and exactly how Top Shelf fixes each one.

You've earned what most local plumbers only wish for — a 4.8 rating across 228 reviews, the kind of trust that closes jobs before you ever pick up the phone. The issue isn't your reputation; it's that a few fixable cracks are quietly letting that trust leak away before it reaches the customers searching right now. Here's what your audit found, what it's costing you, and how we'd fix each one.

01 What your audit turned up

Three real gaps from your audit — each grounded in what we actually saw on your site and profile.

1 Your website's phone number doesn't match Google

COSTING YOU This is the single most damaging issue we found. When your site and your Google profile show different numbers, Google trusts your listing less (which drags your local ranking), and a ready customer can land on an old or wrong number. You lose the job at the exact moment they wanted to hire you.

OUR FIX We unify your name, address, and phone to one correct number everywhere — website, Google profile, and every directory — and add a tap-to-call button on every page.

THE RESULT Every search and every click routes to one number that rings you, and Google starts trusting your listing again.

2 None of your 228 reviews are on the site

COSTING YOU Your reputation is stuck on Google. A visitor on your website — the page where they decide whether to call — never sees the 228 reasons to trust you, so a strong first impression goes to waste.

OUR FIX We add a live reviews wall to your homepage and service pages so your best asset does the persuading right where the decision happens.

THE RESULT Your 4.8 and 228 reviews close the visitor on the page, lifting calls immediately.

3 There are almost no real service or city pages

COSTING YOU With no in-depth pages for water heaters, drain cleaning, slab leaks, or for the towns you serve, you're invisible for "water heater repair Flower Mound" and similar searches — and thinner competitors outrank you on volume alone.

OUR FIX We build dedicated service pages and city pages (Flower Mound, Highland Village, Lewisville, Lantana) with the local schema Google needs to rank them.

THE RESULT You show up for the exact jobs you want, and your reputation finally has pages worth ranking.

Does this sound familiar?

Those are the things we could spot from the outside. But you're the one running the trucks and the phones every day — so a few of these probably hit closer to home.

02 Other things we hear from owners like you

Common headaches for a busy plumbing business — and what it looks like once they're off your plate.

You miss calls while you're under a sink

THE DRAG A homeowner with a leak won't leave a voicemail and wait — they call the next plumber on the list, and that job is gone.

OUR FIX An automatic text back the instant a call is missed, plus online booking so leads can lock in a slot themselves.

THE RESULT Every missed call gets an instant reply, and the leads you used to lose start turning into booked jobs.

Estimates go out and then go quiet

THE DRAG A quote you spent time on gets no follow-up, the homeowner forgets or hires whoever called back, and the work quietly slips away.

OUR FIX An automatic follow-up sequence on every open estimate — a friendly nudge by text and email on your behalf.

THE RESULT Estimates get followed up every time, and more of them turn into scheduled work without you lifting a finger.

Getting paid means chasing invoices

THE DRAG Waiting on checks and making awkward reminder calls ties up your cash and your time after the job's already done.

OUR FIX Send invoices the customer can pay by card from their phone, with automatic reminders until they do.

THE RESULT Customers pay in a couple taps, cash lands faster, and the chasing stops.

■ THE BIGGER PICTURE

This is just the tip of the iceberg.

What you've seen here is only your website and Google presence — one slice of your business. The bigger wins are in the parts we can't see from the outside. Let's grab 20 minutes and sit down together to map the rest of the day-to-day headaches Top Shelf can take off your plate — your audit is yours to keep, and you own everything we build.

Let's set up your sit-down.
